Moving Forward

From the President

In August 1999 I gave my first report to the General Presbytery as president of AGTS. I realized then that I had a primary supporting public to whom I was accountable. AGTS exists as a sacred trust of that public: the General Council. I was determined to always be grateful for the opportunity that God had given me to serve as a steward of this great ministry.

In that first report, I referenced Isaiah 65:1, a reminder that the Spirit's strategy is to reach places that are off everyone's radar screen because they seem so antagonistic to the gospel. A lot has changed in the last 11 years—two things haven't. I am still filled with thanks for your investment in and support of AGTS, and our graduates are still in the thick of God's redemptive plan that is deeply committed to those places that resist God's grace and ignore his kingdom reign.

President Byron D. Klaus

Our graduates are still in the thick of God's redemptive plan that is deeply committed to those places that resist God's grace and ignore his kingdom reign.

D.Min. Program experiences tremendous growth

We are thankful to God that in a period when most Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) programs in the United States are in decline, the D.Min. at AGTS has grown 67% in 2009.

The D.Min. at AGTS is a program in Pentecostal leadership designed to expand the influence of leaders worth following. Our participants and alumni represent 10 nationalities and many denominations. They are leading ministries of all kinds in 26 nations.

The success of the D.Min. can be attributed to the unique concentrations available and the personalized support and attention to detail from the D.Min. team. This team of experts, led by

Dr. Cheryl Taylor, intentionally explore and study current trends in the leadership matrix of ministry, paying special attention to patterns of emerging needs and themes voiced by Christian leaders. The program is then customized to each participant's unique calling. Besides Missional Leadership, Biblical Preaching and Military Chaplaincy, new concentrations include Professional Life Coaching and Women in Leadership. Due to its success, a second Women in Leadership cohort will be added in February 2011. Two more concentrations will be unveiled in the coming year. (More about doctoral programs at AGTS: agts.edu/doctoralar09)

Financial Highlights

1 Continuing challenges...

Total operating revenue: $4,303,268

Total operating expenses: $4,682,385

Operating deficit: $379,117 (Year-end operating expenses are reported at $393,000 under budget projections.)

2 Costs more to get students

Head count is lower, students are taking fewer credits, and students with families are less likely to relocate to Springfield.

Net tuition revenue: $2,660,244 ($328,955 decrease from previous year due to fewer resident credits sold.)

3 An opportunity to thank God

Market value of investments regaining lost ground: $334,457

4 A small step backward

Total net assets: $5,002,150 (a $195,342 decrease from previous year due to a deficit in the operating fund.)

Development Highlights

The financial investment of our partners allows the leaders of today and tomorrow to gain the education they need to impact an ever-changing world for Christ's eternal kingdom!

J. Philip Hogan Professors of World Missions

Dr. Ivan Satyavrata, 2009–2010 J. Philip Hogan Professor of World Missions, presented a series of three lectures identifying seven key priorities and action steps for Pentecostal missions and calling leaders to be anchored to the Rock yet geared to the times. (Listen: agts.edu/link/hogana09)

Drs. John F. (1990) and Anita L. Koeshall, 2010–2011 J. Philip

Hogan Professors of World Missions, have been involved in campus ministry since 1969 in the United States, Europe, Asia and Africa.

New branch development

AGTS is in discussions about new branch development with key school, church and district leaders in Orlando, Fla.; in Chicago, Ill.; in Kansas City, Mo.; and at Zion Bible College, Mass.

Seven alumni aid in Haiti's recovery

Seven AGTS alumni were involved in the recovery efforts in Haiti. AG missionary James Courter

(2006) had just returned to Haiti two hours before the quake struck. In addition, army chaplain Brad Baumann (1997), air force chaplain Eusebia Rios (2001, 2002), and navy chaplains Lofton

Thornton (1994), Jerry Durham (2004), Marlin Williams (2006, pictured) and Brian Shearer (2003) were all in Haiti diligently serving their troops as well as the stricken people there. (More: agts.edu/link/haitiar09)

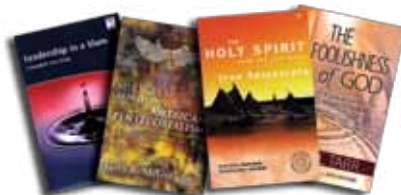

Charlie Self debates atheism at state university

Dr. Charlie Self, associate professor of church history at AGTS, participated in a panel debate on atheism versus theism at Missouri State University in Springfield, Mo., in November 2009. (Watch: agts.edu/link/debatear09)

New AGTS resources

- Al Johnson, Leadership in a Slum, Regnum Books International, 2009
- Gary B. McGee, Miracles, Missions, & American Pentecostalism, Orbis Books, 2010
- Ivan Satyavrata, The Holy Spirit: Lord and Life-Giver, InterVarsity Press, 2009
- Del Tarr, The Foolishness of God, The Access Group, 2010
- New issue of Encounter Journal: Steady Saints in an Unsteady World (agts.edu/link/encounterar09)

AGTS embarks on self-study for reaccreditation

AGTS is in the midst of a self-study process required for its 10-year reaccreditation.

Accreditation is more than just a public attestation of quality. It gives AGTS students access to federal student loans, further doctoral work and the military chaplaincy program. It also allows the school to compete for large grants, such as the $500,000 Kern Family Foundation grant awarded to AGTS in 2009. (More: agts.edu/link/accreditationar09)

Beth Grant joins faculty

Dr. Beth Grant (M.A. 1979) joined the AGTS faculty in fall 2009 as associate professor of intercultural education.

“Dr. Grant provides a rare combination of sturdy scholarship and savvy, grass-roots experience,” said President Klaus. “This kind of ‘knowledge on fire’ DNA is a significant contribution to the AGTS community.”

Due to the flexible format of AGTS class schedules and the seminary’s partnership with AG World Missions, Grant will continue her missions ministry overseas while serving at AGTS.

Hausfeld opens Center for Islamic Studies at AGTS

Dr. Mark Hausfeld, AGTS associate professor of urban and Islamic studies, has established the Center for Islamic Studies at AGTS. The center will provide courses and other programs that will empower students and the church to reach Muslims. AGWM faculty draw on their combined 200 years of experience in the Muslim world.

McGee Collection Room dedicated

In August 2009 AGTS dedicated the Dr. Gary B. McGee Research Collection Room in the AGTS library. Dr. McGee, distinguished professor emeritus of church history and Pentecostal studies, died in December 2008. The room features more than 900 volumes from McGee's personal library, especially those focusing on church and Pentecostal history. To date, nearly $8000 has been donated to furnish this room and purchase additional volumes. (Give: agts.edu/link/mcgeear09)

New initiatives

AGTS Alliance Annual Fund—A network of churches, districts and individuals who give $125 or more per month to cover the cost of one scholarship per year for AG pastors, missionaries, church planters or other ministers in training at AGTS. (More: agts.edu/link/alliancear09)

Strategic Learning—An initiative to provide the latest “virtual campus” technology to five sites across the country, allowing a professor to teach many more students in multiple locations at the same time, reducing costs and expanding course selection. Each of the five sites needs $20,000. (More: agts.edu/link/strategicar09)

Students benefit from rare training opportunities

September 2009—AGTS hosted Day of Renewal with Dr. Sheri Benvenuti. (Listen: agts.edu/renewalar09)

October 2009—AGTS cohosted a showing of Sin by Silence, an emotionally packed examination of stories of women incarcerated for killing an abusive partner and the systems in place to help women escape domestic violence. The screening was followed by a panel discussion with Olivia Klaus, director and daughter of President Klaus, and a woman featured in the film. (sinbysilence.com)

January 2010—The Spring Lectureship at AGTS featured world-renowned Old Testament scholar Dr. Chris Wright, international director Langham Partnership, UK, and head of the Theology Commission of the Lausanne 2010 Conference, the global movement of evangelical leaders founded by Billy Graham. (Listen: agts.edu/link/chriswrightar09)

March 2010—The AGTS Counseling Department hosted a public workshop for those interested in developing the gift of prophecy for use in their ministries, particularly when counseling others. The workshop featured Steve and Anita Herzig, church planters from Pretoria, South Africa.

March 2010 (above)—The National Association of Evangelicals partnered with AGTS to host the forum “Respecting Sex and Reducing Abortions—What Can Christian Leaders Really Do?” for students and area pastors, with keynote speaker Dr. Dennis Hollinger, president of Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, and an expert panel. (Listen: agts.edu/link/naear09)

March 2010—Alum Jason Bowman (2004) joined other church planters to facilitate a two-day church-planting event at AGTS hosted by the Association of Related Churches and the Church Multiplication Network. (Listen to four outstanding sermons from Steve Pike, Joel Hunter, Sam Farina and Rob Ketterling on church planting and the importance of Spirit-led coaching: agts.edu/link/chuchplantingar09)

April 2010—The AGTS Center for Islamic Studies hosted the colloquium “Reaching Muslim Peoples,” featuring live video feed from a missionary to Muslims in Africa.
