1. If I could read only 1 book:

Schaller, Lyle E. The Very Large Church: New Rules for Leaders.
Nashville: Abingdon Press, 2000. (247 pages)

2. If I could use only 1 web site:

<http://www.churchgrowthtoday.com/Content/ContentCT.asp?P=19>
John Vaughn is the pioneer of megachurch research in the US. The site offers lots of resources, including his unique (PowerPoint included) annual report on the American megachurch (available on CD).

3. If I could read only 1 article:

Schuh, Warren. "Interview: Warren Schuh on the Large Church of the Future." Church Executive (March 2004): 12-16.
[www.churchexecutive.com]

4. If I could subscribe to only 1 periodical:

Net Results: New Ideas in Church Vitality.
[<http://www.easumbandy.com/netResults.html>] Tom Bandy and Bill Easum have big-time consulting experience with large churches. They get it right, both in this periodical and their outstanding website.

5. If I could attend only 1 conference

Since many Christian leadership conferences simply recycle what's coming out of the Harvard Business School, why not just go to their conferences in the first place.

6. If I could use only 1 training resource

<http://www.ccn.tv/> The Christian Communication Network is a large and growing source of satellite and video training material featuring leaders who "get it" on the large church scene.
