

AGTS Faculty Welcomes DeLonn Rance

This fall AGTS welcomed Dr. DeLonn Rance (M.A. in Missiology 1983) as missionary in residence and visiting professor of missions. Raised in Guatemala by missionary parents, he felt the call early in life to train missionaries from the two-thirds world.

A missionary among the people of El Salvador for more than 20 years, Rance led in the formation of the AG Department of Missions in the Salvadoran national church. With other leaders, he has helped to build a strong missionary movement throughout Latin America.

Women of the Spirit Event Big Hit at General Council

Laughter, chocolate and great fellowship flavored the “Women of the Spirit” event August 1 in Denver, Colo. Over 350 women of all ages laughed uproariously and listened intently as AGTS and the Task Force for Women in Ministry partnered to provide an event that encouraged and inspired women in ministry.

Best-selling author Dr. Linda Mintle and comedienne Anita Renfroe delighted the audience.

“Excellent, outstanding and orchestrated by the Holy Spirit” were some of the comments heard afterwards. “I laughed until I cried,” multiple others exclaimed.

James River Center Cohort Begins

The first James River Center for Expository Preaching cohort began in October.

Chad Eastman received a scholarship from AGTS to enter the expository preaching program. “I headed into seminary knowing I couldn’t take out any more loans (due to three years of loans at the undergraduate level). When I found out that I had received a significant scholarship it was a God-send.”

“I also greatly appreciated Pastor John Lindell’s visit to evaluate some of our sermons,” said Chad. “His input was invaluable!”

(Participants pictured left to right: David Raley, Steve Pulis and Darin Poe)