

AGTS Welcomes New Academic Dean

We welcome Dr. Castleberry, his wife Kathleen, and their three daughters, Jessica, Jodie, and Sophie.

Dr. Joseph L. Castleberry will join AGTS as the new academic dean in January 2003. Throughout his career, he has divided his time between church ministry and theological education. He has been a missionary under general appointment with the Assemblies of God World Missions since 1988. As the founding director of The Freedom Valley Project in Carpuela, Ecuador, he established the first Evangelical church among the previously unreached African-American people of the Chota Valley, Ecuador.

Castleberry has had pastoral experience both in the United States and in Ecuador. He served as academic vice president for the A/G Biblical Seminary in Quito Ecuador (1997-2001) and was the associate dean for Curriculum Development at Global University of the A/G, School of Graduate Studies (1995-1997). He was also the associate dean for Latin America, Global University of the A/G, School of Bible and Theology (1993-1994). He earned a Doctor of Education in International Education Development with a concentration in Higher Education Administration from Columbia University, New York, N.Y., 1999, and a Master of Divinity from Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N.J., 1988. R

aGts

assemblies of God theological seminary leadership roundtable

march 24-25 2003

lake williamson christian center, carlinville, illinois

Ministry on the Edge: The Mission to Post-Christian America

with

Dr. Leonard Sweet

Futurist and E. Stanley Jones
Professor of Evangelism at Drew University in Madison, New Jersey

In Partnership with the Illinois District Council of the Assemblies of God, Leadership Training Network

and

Byron Klaus

president of agts

Earl Creps

doctor of ministry director at agts

Register

online: www.aGts.edu or by phone: 800-467-2487

1435 N. Glenstone Ave., Springfield, MO, 65802 • 800-467-2487 • Fax: 417-268-1009 • agts@agts.edu