METHODOLOGY

This course will utilize lectures by the professor, audio-visual presentations, dialogue between the professor and students, and seminar-type presentations and critiques by the students.

REQUIREMENTS

- 1 . Bible Content Examination. Each student must sustain an examination over the content of 1 Corinthians that focuses largely on identifying subject matter by chapter. There will be a pre-test (non-graded) in the first session and a post-test (graded) in the last (using the same examination) to assist in assessing the student's learning and achievement of the class objectives.
- 2 . Reading Report. Each student must submit a reading report at the end of the course that logs all class reading by author, book, date, time, and so forth (excluding the Bible text). A reading report form will be provided on the first day of class.
- 3 . Presentation Reports. Each student will prepare a written paper, two to three (2-3) double-spaced pages in length, as a basis for discussion or a possible oral report (depending on the class size and quality of the papers) to one or more sessions of the class beginning with Unit 2 (a total of four). Topics from which students may chose may be identified from the unit objectives and assignments, from additional topics provided by the professor, or from special textual interests negotiated by the student. Each report must close with a brief, well-reasoned application to contemporary Christian life where application is possible and appropriate. Topics must be agreed upon with the professor one week in advance while in attendance at a class session so that the professor may weave them into the lesson plan for each succeeding session if appropriate. Papers are due at the beginning of each class session (2-5).
- 4 . Final Paper. One of the presentation reports must be expanded (and can be included verbatim as needed) into a research paper of not less than 10 pages, employing not less than 10 sources, and presented in standard Turabian form. Due at beginning of last class session.
- 5 . Quizzes. The professor may administer up to 4 quizzes at the end of the class period covering information discussed in the class or reading assignments made for the class. The emphasis will be on broad concepts and understanding of class presentations.

Possible Presentation Report Topics:

In addition to (or expanding upon) the topics that may be derived from the outline and objectives of Units 2 – 5, the student may wish to consider the following for a presentation report:

Unit 2

The role of other prominent Christian teachers in the Corinthian church.

The Greek philosophical schools and their potential influence in Corinth.

A sociological examination of the Corinthian church.

Paul's understanding of wisdom.

Possible Presentation Report Topics, cont'd:Unit 2, cont'd

The role of the Holy Spirit in Christian experience as reflected in chapter 2.
 Paul's usage of the "temple" metaphor.
 An examination of the case of incest in chapter 5 and Paul's judgment about it.
 An examination of the "lawsuits" of chapter 6.
 The nature of sexual immorality in chapter 6.

Unit 3

An examination of "spiritual marriage" as a possible practice in chapter 7.
 An examination of the varied interpretations of the "virgins" in 7:25ff.
 The implications of 7:12ff. for divorce in the case of desertion by a spouse.
 Corinthian practices regarding feasts in idol temples.
 The problem of meet offered to idols.
 Responsibility toward the weaker member in eating food sacrificed to idols.

Unit 4

The role of women in the Corinthian church as reflected in chapter 11.
 Male and females roles as reflected in chapter 11.
 An ethical and sociological analysis of the problem at the Lord's table.
 An analysis of each of the so-called nine gifts of 12:8-10.
 An exposition of Paul's body motif in 12:12ff.
 The role of chapter 13 in its setting between chapters 12 and 14.
 An examination of Corinthian worship practices in chapter 14.
 Paul's understanding of glossalalia and the limits imposed on its practice.
 The nature of prophecy and the guidelines imposed in chapter 14.

Unit 5

The centrality of the resurrection in the early church's kerygma as see in chapter 15.
 The significance of Christ's resurrection for that of believers.
 The eschatology reflected in chapter 15.
 The nature of the resurrection body.
 An evaluation of the personal information in chapter 16.
