COURSE SYLLABUS

COURSE DESCRIPTION

An examination of the theological challenge of Islam and Christian response. Key theological differences will be studied with special emphasis being placed upon biblical answers. The purpose is to develop understanding of the congruencies and divergencies between Christianity and Islam as a tool for communicating the Gospel to Muslims.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course the student should be able to:

1. Have an understanding of the historical, cultural and religious background and its impact upon Muhammad and the development of his belief system.
2. Identify the major Islamic objections to the Christian faith and doctrine.
3. Prepare a biblical defense of the major Christian doctrines that Muslims find objectionable.
4. Develop an appreciation for the value of using the Quran in answering Muslims.

TEXTBOOKS

Ali, A. Yusuf. The Quran: Translation. Elmhurst, NY: Tahrike Tarsile Qur'an, Inc., 2000.

Abdul-Haqq. Sharing Your Faith with a Muslim. Minneapolis: Bethany, 1980.

Geisler, Norman L. & Abdul Saleeb: Answering Islam. Grand Rapids: Baker, 1993.

Kateregga, Badru D. & David W. Shenk: Islam & Christianity. Nairobi, Kenya: Uzima, 1980.

Chacour, Elias with David Hazard. Blood Brothers. Grand Rapids, Michigan: Chosen Books, 2003.

COURSE OUTLINE

1. Introduction to the course.
2. The basic beliefs of Muslims.
3. The background for their beliefs. Where did Muhammad get his religious ideas from?
4. Do all Muslims believe the same?
5. The Quran and the Hadith.
6. Muslim objections to Christian beliefs.
7. Christian responses to Muslims.
8. Christian eschatology and evangelizing Muslims.

METHODOLOGY

The primary method of instruction will be lecture and discussion. The lectures will include the use of overheads, power point, hand outs, and video. Some short articles will be read and discussed in class in an effort to see how bridges can be built between the two faiths.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

A. Pre-Session

1. Read the first nineteen chapters of the Quran by Yusuf Ali and write a three-page review, expressing your impressions, both positive and negative. Note any passages of theological significance and comment on the similarities and differences between Quranic and Christian teaching.
2. Read the rest of the textbooks. Submit a statement reporting on the amount of reading completed.

DUE DATE: January 8, 2007

B. Session

1. Punctual attendance at all sessions is expected.
2. Type a one-page reflection of the material covered in class for each of the first four days. Each paper is due at the beginning of class the next day.
3. Take a quiz over the material discussed in session. January 12.

C. Post-Session

Write a 15-20 page typewritten paper on a topic dealing with some major theological topic. Deal with the historical development of the doctrine. In other words, is the doctrine explained in the Quran, or does it come from hadith? Do all Muslims share the same belief; do they all view it in the same way (Sunni, Shia, Folk Muslims, Sufi)? What is the Christian understanding of the topic? How is the Christian understanding of the doctrine similar to the Muslim understanding of the doctrine, and how is it different? The topic for the paper must be approved by the instructor. The paper should be turned in to the faculty secretary by April 12, 2007, or forwarded to the instructor, postmarked no later than April 12, 2007.
