COURSE SYLLABUS

COURSE DESCRIPTION An introduction to the assessment and treatment of varied forms of addiction including primary emphasis on theories of alcohol and drug addiction with additional attention given to gambling, sexual addiction, internet addiction, fantasy, and others. This course will have supplemental emphasis on understanding, assessing, and treating addictive behaviors within the individual, the family system, and the broader community context.

OBJECTIVES This course targets the Intervention component of the MA Counseling core competencies. Upon completion of the course, the student should be able to:

1. Articulate the major concepts and theories of addictive behaviors.
2. Identify the major theorists who have influenced the development of these theories.
3. Compare and evaluate the therapeutic principles of addiction interventions.
4. Evaluate the primary models used in evangelical churches, including their assumptions regarding human nature, the therapeutic relationship, aims in counseling, and intervention methodologies.
5. Develop an individualized methodology that will be compatible with and enhanced by one's own faith and commitment to personal health and spiritual well being.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS

RECOMMENDED TEXTBOOK

American Psychological Association. (2010). Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, (6th ed.). Washington, DC: Author. ISBN-13: 978-1433805615

METHODOLOGY The course will be conducted as a seminar in which all students participate and contribute ideas and concepts. The instructor will lecture and students will participate in hands-on demonstrations. The students will further participate in classroom discussion and will complete assigned research, reading and projects.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1. Read all assigned materials.
2. Class attendance, punctuality, professionalism, and productive class participation are important parts of the classroom experience for both the individual and the community, and will be considered in the student's grade. Attend all class meetings. Students with more than one absence (or equivalent) will receive a reduction of 10% to their final grade. Students with more than two weeks (or equivalent) of absences will not be permitted to pass the course. Active participation in class discussions and projects is required for a successful learning environment.

3. Conduct research on a specific addictions or theory given in class and/or approved by the professor. Two Options for paper will be considered by professor. One would be a standard research paper, which will summarize the research in a 12-15 page paper. Papers should be typed, double-spaced and carefully referenced with current, scholarly sources. Carefully cite all references used. Follow the latest APA style manual for paper construction. Approximately 24-30 references should be utilized. A second option will be a specialty paper with classroom presentation, with a topic decided on by the professor and student.

4. Complete a formal classroom presentation on some aspect of addictions approved by the instructor. This presentation should include handouts for other students.

5. Attend a community support meeting and submit a reaction paper summarizing the experience and your perceptions of the meeting.

6. In-class assignments as given

7. Midterm and Final Exam

Submission Notice: All papers are due prior to the start of class on the deadline date. Papers are to be submitted via email in Word format. Be sure to check for a return email confirmation notice to ensure that your email was received. The final course grade will be determined based on combined scores of all quizzes, exams, projects, and paper. Attendance and class participation will be considered when assessing final grades.

Confidentiality Notice: As a reminder, all information concerning clients, supervisees, and classmates must be kept confidential. Confidentiality is a crucial element in the counseling profession and should also be upheld with clients, supervisees, and peers. Any discussion should be conducted in such a manner that persons are protected by the limits of confidentiality. Confidentiality will be broken if there is evidence that you have been or pose a potential danger to others or if you break ethical or legal standards as established by the Counseling Profession.

Electronic Device Notice: As a matter of courtesy to fellow classmates and the instructor, please turn off your beepers, cell phones, and any other electronic devices that make noise. Laptops are permissible for note-taking purposes, however utilization of social network applications is not permitted during class.
